

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1888.

NO. 86

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

The Social Club has secured the upper rooms in the building over the Citizens National Bank, and will hold their meetings there the remainder of the season.

A band of Indians will begin exhibiting here next Monday night and will give a free show nightly for three weeks. The small boy is almost as happy as his pop.

It is now thought that the expert who recently worked the gold brick scheme to his satisfaction in Casey county, and afterward beat a Danville livery firm out of a double team and buggy, is the same man who stole Clark Farrik's pop.

Mr. Robert L. Elkhead and Miss Bertie Collier were married at the residence of the bride's parents in this city yesterday morning. They left immediately for Atlanta and other points in the South. Always bright and beautiful, Miss Bertie was a general favorite here, and Robert is well worthy of the great prize he has won.

Mr. Terrill Layton and Miss Lillian Hopper are to be married next Tuesday. Mr. Everett Farra and bride, of Lexington, are visiting at Mrs. Fannie Farra's. Miss Kate Bartlett, of Markedburg, and Miss Marion Wolford, of Point Dick, are visiting Miss Mollie Bartlett. Max Scott, who was severely injured in a Lily coal mine a few days ago, is out on crutches and is improving rapidly.

Harmon.—The Felician Society was well attended Monday night and the exercises interesting and amusing. About 25 people were there. The exercises for next Monday night will be good. J. C. Montgomery will preach at the school house Saturday night. Prayer meeting at the new church every Sunday night. Myram Luce gave us a good lecture on the church and the world, and says they are married and ought to be divorced at once. A few nights ago thieves went into the kitchen of Mr. Blanks, drew some molasses and left the barrel turned off so as to let the balance all pour out on the floor. They also took a sack of flour from Robt. Underwood with which to make sweetcakes. J. J. Walker bought Green Bright's hogs weighing 300 lbs. at $4.75. James Robinson is out at business again. J. G. Carman, of Casey, is visiting at A. C. Carman's. The Wrought Iron Range Co. has sold 270 stoves since they have been stationed at Lancaster, for $17,500. We have been failing to get our Interior Journals till a day late for two weeks. What is the cause? D. N. Prewitt takes Huddle & Eubanks' hogs next Tuesday, bought some time ago at 5 cents. Prewitt also bought 50 barrels of corn of the Blanks boys at $1.50. Turkeys are current here at 5 cents.

Danville.—Our townsman, Rev. J. L. Allen, has just received a unanimous vote for the fifth year from the church at Athens, Fayette county. The church at Somerset has also asked Mr. Allen to continue with them for another year. The probability is that he will accept both calls. Our former townsman, Jas. M. Bryant, Esq., died in Chicago last Friday in the 64th year of his age. Wakelield, Lee & Co. sold last week to Messrs. Aycock, of Columbia, 8 C. 15 miles at $115. R. L. Galtler sold 7 miles 153 hands high to same at $150. J. T. Hingely bought at Harrodsburg court day 14 1,000 pound cattle at $3.30 and sold same privately at about $3.40. Ten days ago a well-dressed stranger secured a buggy and a pair of horses to go to Harrodsburg, from Wakelield & Lee, and up to this time nothing has been heard of them. The buggy was new and one of the team was a valuable mare. Advocate.

Senator Chandler delivers himself thusly: "Civil service reform is all right in its way, but it only applies to clerks—those fellows who write with pens—but, outside of them, all the offices are political, and this will be made apparent. There will be no hurry in meddling with the clerks, but, in time, they will have to go and republicans will be put in."

There are nearly 150,000 acres of oyster beds in the Chesapeake Bay, yielding over 10,000,000 bushels of oysters a year and yielding to the engaged in the industry annual wages exceeding $1,000,000. There are nearly 1,000 oyster vessels, with thoroughly armed crews, aggregating 5,000 men. So it is no wonder the governor of Maryland is rising a row with the depredators.

Pastuer, the great Frenchman, discovered that microbes causes chicken cholera, and Garter found that his magic chicken cholera cure destroys them. Sold "no cure, no pay," by McRoberts & Stagg. 21

The tracts he near Prochessville in this and Garrard county. Total amount of sales $11,250, which with the sales of the personally makes about $19,000, with which to pay debts amounting to $27,000. Since reaching his majority this son has steadily hunted for McDowell and it was he that made the arrest.

The net surplus cash in the treasury is now $32,234,610, against $75,491,368 on November 1. The interest-bearing debt has been reduced $11,000,000 during the month, and now aggregates $947,068,202.

Happy Homes.

Here's a health to the wives and mothers Who sit in their households to-day; Who are glad when they brighten for others The hours that go drifting away.

May their eyes keep the light of gladness, Their hearts hold the fulness of bliss That banishes shadows and sadness, And what need we ask more than this?

But—how can this happiness be kept? What shall protect those we love, those who made a Heaven of the home, from the ravages of disease that is often worse than death,—that is, in fact, a lingering death? The question is, easily answered: Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the standard remedy for all of those peculiar diseases to which women are subject, and which must be relied on to preserve the health of wives and mothers. It prevents those diseases, and it cures them. It is a blessing to women and therefore a national blessing, because it gives health to those about whom the happiness of home center, and the strength of the nation is in its happy homes.

—Hon. G. M. Adams passed down to Barboursville Monday. Joseph McKee, of London, is visiting here. B. P. Martin is now running the wires at Lily. Mrs. Rosa Tyree left for Mansfield, Mo., yesterday.

—Monday night as Lee B. Carter stepped out of the Joplin House at Mt. Vernon, where he had just supped, he was fired on by James Frazer and fell with 14 buckshot in his breast and two thro' the heart. He threw up his hands and staggered back into the hotel, dying in a moment. At the coroner's inquest the verdict was given according to the facts as above stated. It is thought that the trouble originated Saturday night, when Carter remained over night at Frazer's residence, in the east end of town. During the night Frazer woke up and thought he discovered Carter. In a compromising position with Mrs. Frazer. He accused Carter of wrong doing and they quarreled for some time, when Carter left the house, followed by threats from Frazer. The parties had not met until Monday night in front of the Joplin House. Frazer had lain in wait for Carter. Frazer was thought to be intoxicated when the shooting was done. Carter had only been acquitted at Stanford a month ago for the killing of Tom Moore, which took place in Mt. Vernon in July, 1886, when both Jack and Tom Moore fell from buck shot fired by Carter. Frazer is a nephew of the slain Moore boys. A strange coincidence connected with the killing of Carter is that he was killed by the same kind of a gun, buckshot, at the same time of day almost to a minute and within 200 feet of where the Moore boys fell. Carter's father, Judge James G., had lately married Miss Mary Miller, an aunt of Frazer, and a sister of the Moores. Lee Carter had recently sold out his possessions and was to move to Missouri within a few weeks. Tom Moore before he died said that his slayer would die in the same manner before the expiration of three years. Lee Carter was buried by the Mason & Brotherhood Wednesday at high 12. A large throng of people were in attendance to hear the impressive Masonic burial rites.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE is an elaborate and comprehensive state paper of 27,000 words, each of which bears the impress of rugged statesmanship and adds further proof that the country has never had a more courageous, honest and faithful executive, nor one who was so wrapped up in his solicitude for its welfare as to subordinate his own and his party's interests for its good. A large part of the paper is devoted to the subject of tariff reduction, and is a forceful and convincing appeal for the lifting of onerous and unjust burdens of taxation from the people, which oppresses the many for the benefit of the few. No jot or tittle of the bold ground he took on the subject a year ago is abandoned or surrendered, but he insists with even greater emphasis "that the cause should never be compromised. It is the people's cause." The tariff laws engender monopolies, create trusts and enable the rich to trample with iron heel upon the common citizen. Communism is a hateful thing, and a menace to peace and organized government; but the communism of combined wealth and capital, the outgrowth of overbearing cupidity and selfishness, which insidiously undermines the justice and integrity of free institutions, is not less dangerous than the communism of oppressed poverty and toil, which, exasperated by injustice and discontent, attacks with wild disorder the citadel of rule. Existing evils and injustices should be honestly recognized, boldly met and effectively remedied. There should be no cessation of the struggle until a plan is perfected, fair and conservative toward existing industries, but which will reduce the cost to consumers of the necessities of life, while it provides for our manufacturers the advantages of freer raw materials and permits no injury to the interests of American labor. The Sackville West episode is spoken of as "deeply regrettable," but his offense was such as demanded prompt and decisive action. He congratulates the country upon the final passage of the Chinese exclusion act and earnestly invokes Congress to take immediate steps for the settlement of the fisheries question. A revision of the general pension laws is urgently demanded, so as to meet as far as possible all meritorious cases. The fact that there are 102 different rates of pensions and the constantly increasing passages of private acts, shows injustice and inequality, and suggests a revision. The principles upon which pensions should be granted are in danger of being altogether ignored, and already pensions are often claimed because the applicants are as much entitled as other successful applicants, rather than upon any disability reasonably attributable to military service. The rest of the message is a review of the reports of the various heads of departments, of which we make mention elsewhere. The entire suppression of all bitterness in the hour of political defeat characterizes the paper and is bound to increase public admiration for the grandest man of his day and create additional regret that he was not re-elected.

The postmaster general's report shows that there are now 57,375 post-offices, an increase of 5,124. Of this great number the postmasters at only 1,244 were removed during the year. The service cost the country $1,190,227 more than the receipts, which were $52,925,176. Under the law authorizing allowances for rent, fuel and lights, 1,988 officers have received the benefit, but he thinks the law should be repealed, as the best interests of the service require discretionary authority in the head of the department fixing allowances having regard to local needs. The report also recommends the repeal of the franking privilege and a yearly allowance of stamps for each Congressman and then all would be placed on equality and none could make use of the mails for unofficial matter.

With her 80,000 republican majority Kansas elects but one negro to the legislature, the first one ever so honored in that State. She prizes herself, too, on being the banner republican State. On the other hand, the banner democratic State, Texas, elects five negroes to the legislature. Speaking of negroes calls to mind the fact that the next Congress will have one colored member, Cheatham, of North Carolina.

A CONTEMPORARY calls attention to the fact that for 29 years Old John Brown's body has lain mouldering in the clay. Last Sunday was the anniversary of his death on the gallows at Charleston, W. Va., then in Old Virginia, for inciting and leading an insurrection at Harper's Ferry.

The Emma CHESAULT, a graduate of medicine, has hung out her shingle at Lexington. Unfortunately she limits her practice to women and children, or the blue-grass ladies would soon bring her a fortune, if she is pretty, which we take for granted.

Fisk only got one vote in South Carolina and Helen Lockwood, but two in Kentucky. Honors are mighty near even between them.

The following will show how the message is regarded: The New York Herald says the President's remarks are sensible and well put; the World that it is dignified, compact and forcible; the Sun that it is an aimless and inconsequential document and the Tribune that it is an attempt to stir up anarchy by pandering to ignorance and passion. The Chicago Herald says it impresses the country with the sense that Grover Cleveland, as President, was the right man in the right place; the Times that it will cause many millions of citizens to deeply regret the failure to re-elect him; the Tribune that it is bold, nervy and shows the President wants one more round before he will acknowledge himself whipped; the News that it cannot fail to increase admiration for the man who can in the hour of defeat keep his head and display absolute indifference to his personal popularity; the Indianapolis Sentinel has no hesitancy in pronouncing it the greatest message ever sent to Congress by an American President, and believes it will be drawn upon liberally by the statesmen of generations yet unborn for instruction in the fundamental principles of free government. The Journal, Harrison's organ, thinks it has not a sound principle nor a healthy idea, but is a plain appeal to class interests in support of a pet policy. The Cincinnati Enquirer says it maintains with vigor and at times with eloquence the President's well-known tariff reform views and is clear in style, forcible in statement and manly in frankness. The monthly Commercial Gazette says the ponderous muller has spun his course conceits to an inordinate length and from beginning to end it is rot and rot it will remain. The Louisville Commercial calls it a string of well-worn stock arguments, ten columns in length and loaded to the muzzle with platitudes and remorse. The Courier-Journal is more than pleased and says it is plain, direct, conclusive; no double dealing, no apology, no retraction. The democratic Congressmen generally approve and commend the message, but the ill-bred and ungovernably republican laughed derisively during its reading by the clerk.

SAM SMALL says he recognizes now the mistake the prohibitionists made all along the line in running independent candidates instead of going in with some other party and electing the best man. He says, "The prohibitionists have held the balance of power in over 50 Congressional districts, but we have no representation. We have lost our opportunity because we have placed party above principle. It is better that the saloon should go than that the prohibition party should come." This is the most sensible thing that has emanated from Samuel in a long time and is just what every true temperance man has wanted all along.

The Clerk of the House says it looks now like the republicans will have but one majority in that body. If this be the case, then Harrison will be urged to call an extra session of the body as soon as he assumes the power, so that the republicans can organize and thus avoid the risk of being thwarted in their designs by death or other Providential hindrances.

It is stated that of the 11,000 voters of Chenango county, N. Y., 3,000 are purchasable. The proportion may not be as large all over the country, but no one outside of the initiated has any idea how many men in every community can be bought in an election. It is as much a source of wonder as it is a cause for alarm.

For a long time party lines have not been drawn in the municipal elections in Louisville, but they were in the election Tuesday, and the result is most gratifying to the democrats, every one of whose nominees were triumphantly elected. The election was held under the new Wallace law, which is said to have worked most satisfactorily.

The official and semi-official returns from all the States show a popular majority for Cleveland over Harrison of about 150,000, or double that over Blaine in 1884. According to these reports the democrats increased their vote 449,440, the republicans about 350,000 and the prohibitionists 91,383, while the labor vote fell short over 50,000.

J. L. CURRY, a Baptist preacher, who claims that he is so completely sanctified that he cannot sin, is in jail at Columbia for committing a rape on a daughter of Henry Cundiff. Mr. Curry is too good for this world entirely and should be immediately assisted to the next via the hempen route.

Gov. McCREARY has been promoted to the head of the Foreign Affairs Committee and will resign the chairmanship of Private Lands. Our townsman, W. E. Yarnon, will get a benefit by the change, as the Governor will appoint him secretary of the committee. The pay is $5 a day.

The Ohio White Caps have made bold enough to threaten citizens of Cincinnati. Those who have read his miserable ravings against his betters will be glad when they get hold of Mount Halstead.

The president elect has gone grouse hunting and for the time is safe from the hungry horde of office-seekers.

GEN. HARRISON is said to be a man of his own head and that his party will find about as hard time managing him as the democrats have while Cleveland. The following remark made to Chamberlain shows that he does not partake of the bitterness towards the south that is cherished by the Sheridans, Ingalls and such cattle. Says he, "It is folly to recognize such a thing as a Southern question. While I am president I shall only demand that the people of the whole country shall obey the laws of the nation without reference to the section in which they may live. It is an insult to me for the Southern people to intimate that I desire to deal harshly with them. It would also be an insult to them for me to anticipate that they do not expect to obey the laws as they do and shall exist."

The Glasgow Times sends up this pitiful wail: "The Louisville Times and the Stanford Extension Journal are discussing the possibilities and the probabilities of democratic success in this congressional district. Brethren, the subject isn't worth discussing. Democratic chances in the 11th are not the value of a tinkler's dam. The district is republican and will be republican so long as Whitley county's 1,800 republican majority continues to vex our democratic souls. With Whitley county in the republican 10th, an election might mean something else besides gall and worm-wood to democracy. Brethren, help us, for we are in a lather of a lather." All right; we shall have her joined to her idols as soon as the legislature meets.

C. M. MEACHAM is back on his old love, the Hopkinsville South Kentuckian, and his salutatory shows that his sojourn on the Pacific Coast has not dulled his humorous propensity. He says that the settlement of such weighty questions as the adjustment of the tariff, the disposition of the surplus and the annexation of Canada will be left to the great dailies, and that the adjustment of its own tariff rates so as to meet the approval of advertisers, the accumulation of a private rather than the distribution of a public surplus, and the annexation of new subscribers instead of new dominions, are questions of far more import to him than those hoary chestnuts of politics.

In New York City they have a human incubator, into which children who are born before maturity are placed for further development. In the case of a girl baby born 13 weeks before her time, it has just worked very satisfactorily. When placed in the incubator Sept. 27 she was only 11 inches in length and but two pounds in weight. This week she was taken from it 20 inches long and weighing 6 pounds. The time will perhaps come when children can be produced like chickens are now.

The latest from West Virginia is that the democratic candidate for governor is elected. Cleveland's majority is about 1,000.

Life in Russia.
First Russian Subject—In a recent railroad accident the czar's dog was killed, but the czar escaped. Shall we look glad or sorry in that?
Second Subject—If we look glad the police will say it is because the czar's favorite dog was killed; if we look sorry they will say it is because it was the dog and not the czar that was killed. Either way we are lost. See you later in Siberia.—Philadelphia Record.

A Metropolitan Note.
Kansas City Resident on board train to St. Louis—Well, sir, we have reached the metropolis of the great and growing west at last. We are in Kansas City. This is Eight Hundred and Fortieth street.
Stranger (peering out of the window)—Well, what is that peculiar noise?
Kansas City Resident—That, sir, is the creaking of frogs. Our climate here will raise anything.—New York Sun.

A Ph Subject.
A correspondent asks The Boston Globe: "Can a person obtain admission to the Old Ladies' Home as it is reported, by collecting 1,000,000 old postage stamps? The Globe replies in the negative, but we should think the person who performs such a task would have no difficulty in getting admitted to almost any insane asylum.—Norristown Herald.

The Great Literary Center.
The proposed exhibit of Chicago pork in Paris is very interesting to this city of culture. Nobody is trying to get up an exhibit of Boston beans in the French metropolis. Chicago is rapidly coming to be recognized as the great literary center of this country.—Chicago News.

An Old Truth Illustrated.
"The silent pressure of the hand is often of more vital good than a whole volume of good counsel," says a philosopher. So the bad boy's mother thinks, and she knows just whose the hand should be properly and effectively applied.—Somerville Journal.

Oh Duty.
Miss Keane (to handsome young physician)—Oh, doctor, how do you do? You look killing this evening!
Young Physician (quietly)—Thank you, but I'm not; I'm off duty, don't you know.—Drake's Magazine.

Good Enough for Him.
First Citizen—I'm proud of my wife. She can speak five different languages. How many languages does your wife speak?
Second Citizen—United States and baby talk. That's enough for me.—Burlington Free Press.

Business Dull.
"How's business since election?" asked one baseball club manager of another.
"Mighty dull," was the discouraging reply.
"I've only sold two players this week."—Norristown Herald.

No Novelty for Him.
Friend—Doctor, did you ever fight a duel?
Doctor—A duel? No, indeed. What novelty would it be for me to kill a man?—Texas Siftings.

The assassination of Lee Carter is excusable under no state of case. If he was guilty of murdering Frazier's wife then there was the time for Frazier to have taken the law into his hands, if ever. A cold-blooded, premeditated and cowardly murder is all that it looks like at this distance.

As Indian Patent Medicineshow wanted the Opera House for three weeks at about the price for three nights, but the proprietors could not see it. Newman who owns such property can afford to let let those concerns have it at any reasonable price. The free show would damage a hall about as much as a dozen ordinary entertainments.

JETLICO furnishes another homicide to her long and ever increasing list. Green Perkins, a saloon keeper, shot and killed George Slaughter, a colored miner, who threw a rock at him, when he put him out of the saloon after he had gotten drunk and troublesome.

THE rainfall for November was 5.01 inches, about 1 inch over the average precipitation for the last 10 years. So far the weather has been unusually mild, no cold snaps or snow storms to speak of occurring. Farmers tell us that judging from the thinness of the corn sheek the mild weather will continue through the winter.

CHAS. CARR, Dr. D. H. McRoberts tells that as he was returning from Liberty Tuesday via the Yosemite railroad, two cars jumped the track on a trestle a few miles from the tunnel and went pell-mell into the ravine below. Fortunately they broke loose from the engine and from the passenger car attached, on a tragedy instead of simply a considerable loss of property would have been enacted.

It seems that Mr. Thomas McLane's troubles did not end with his marriage. It will be remembered that he came all the way from Washington Territory to marry Miss Sammie Coleman, whom he had only known through correspondence. The marriage was finally consummated after the old man had relented, and husband and wife spent the night at his house. The next day McLane wanted to start back to his far off home with his fair bride, but she positively and unqualifiedly refused to accompany him. Entrances were vain and McLane gave it up as a bad job. He then went to Elder J. G. Livingston, who had tied the knot, and demanded that the license be returned to him so that the marriage might be null and void. The preacher explained that he could not annul him and that he was as firmly joined to the woman as though he had lived with her 40 years. This did not satisfy him, so he went to County Clerk Cooper and wanted him to scratch out the whole thing and he would go back down as he came, a free man. Of course he gave him the same information that the preacher had. He decided to make one more effort and accordingly went back, but whether he succeeded or not in inducing her to accompany him we have not been able to learn.

MR. JAMES FOWNS, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock Tom Harper shot and killed West Hansford, another negro, the ball entering his forehead, crashing into the brain, which oozed out and he scattered the steps and the side of the house where he fell. Harper came at once and delivered himself to the officers, saying that he and his wife were quarreling, when Hansford had turned up and told him to stop that noise. He replied "you had better make me." When Hansford came to the top of the steps and began to shake the door. The man and got his pistol and as Hansford opened the door he fired and the man fell 10 or 12 feet to the ground, dying instantly. Judge Varnon sent Harper to jail and set his trial for today. Harper's wife says that Hansford's remarks were in a playful tone and that her husband had no cause whatever to kill him. So far as we can learn there had been no trouble between them and no grounds for jealousy existed. Harper came here from Atlanta, Ga., a few years ago and married. He was a well-behaved negro to white people and bears a fair reputation. Hansford had been back from the penitentiary but a few months, to which he was sent for two years for striking Ralph Burket, a white man with a rock from the effects of which he died. This occurred at a Christmas celebration three years ago. This and several other instances have occurred recently in support of the truth of the Biblical sentence: "He who sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed." It is a pity that it does not always prove the rule.

HOG STEALING.—Jed, Newland has been doing some more good detective work. A short time ago J. E. Farris had a large hog stolen, and knowing Newland's ability in ferreting out such matters, he put him on to it. The result was that he found the hog ready for table use at the house of Davison Gooch, colored, a dozen miles from Farris'. He also found that another negro, Arch Adams, had done the stealing, so Gooch was arrested for receiving stolen property. Adams has been down, but Newland says he is going to have him or burst a hamspring.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Miss Mattie Brock, daughter of Dr. R. L. Brock, was married yesterday at Mr. Lucas Brodhead's, in Woodford county, to J. Carter, of the U. S. Navy.

—William P. Tate and Permelia Sweeney, a young couple who had eloped from their homes in Casey county, this State, riding all Sunday night in a buggy to reach the nearest railroad station, arrived in the city at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and, crossing to Jeffersonville, were married by Justice Keigwin.—Louisville Commercial.

—Mr. William J. Davis and Miss Cora Lee Sandridge, both prominent young people of Danville, Ky., were quietly married in the parlors of the Louisville Hotel this morning at about 10 o'clock. They arrived in the city this morning, accompanied by Mr. Addison M. King, and on their arrival at the hotel sent for Rev. E. L. Powers, who tied the nuptial knot in the presence of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Kelley, of the hotel, and Mr. Charles McDowell, of Danville. The bride was one of the most popular young belles of Danville and is highly connected, and the groom is a well-known young business man connected with the firm of Rowland & Co.—Post.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Miss Maggie Egbert, daughter of A. M. and Mrs. Kate Egbert, died at their home in Crab Orchard at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, of consumption, aged 24 years. Of an unusually bright and happy disposition, Miss Maggie drew many friends to her, who will read these lines with deep regret for her untimely death. She had been a member of the Christian church for years and her pastor tells us she was a model one in every respect. Her simple trust in her Master was strong and grew stronger as the moment of dissolution drew near. She frequently talked of death and her anxiety to meet her Savior, and exhorted her father and others to live in such a manner as to meet at His right hand. For several years Miss Maggie was an excellent and punctual correspondent of this paper, in which she took great delight, and for which we have been much indebted to her. She was a very lovable girl and we sincerely join with their other friends in extending to the weeping parents our heartfelt condolence. Elder J. G. Livingston preached the funeral sermon at the Christian church, Crab Orchard, yesterday at 11 o'clock, after which the remains were interred in the family burying-ground at the Baptist church.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

The Baptist church at Washington, Mason county, burned Sunday night last $1,500.

The Christian Sunday-school will meet in the Presbyterian church proper next Sunday, by invitation.

Elder Z. T. Sweeney's meeting has had 37 additions to date and the interest is increasing.—Paris Kentuckian.

Rev. F. D. Hale is conducting a gracious revival at Covington, at which some 30 souls have already found Christ. Francis Murphy, who has been laboring in the temperance cause for 12 years, estimates that 14,000,000 persons have signed the pledge under his crusade, and that of these $5 per cent. have remained faithful to their vows.

Rev. James Snowden, for 20 years a Christian minister, has been held in $1,500 on a charge of mail robbery at Center Ridge, Ark., where he was deputy postmaster. When arrested he had up on his person $300, including three marked bills, which had been used as decoys by the postal inspectors.

Judge McBrayer, of Lawrenceburg, is dying from a stroke of paralysis.

Two of Old Hotel's clerks absconded with $20,000 of the amount he made out of the Chicago wheat deal.

A Massachusetts woman's life was saved by her bustle. She fell through a coal hole and that appendage kept her from going to the bottom.

The Standard Oil Company is making arrangements to build a pipe line from the Ohio oil fields to St. Louis, where oil will be transported for distribution through the Southern and Southwestern States.

This from yesterday's Courier-Journal is all we know about it: "Rev. Theo. O. Barnes, the noted evangelist, who was expected to arrive in Louisville yesterday, failed to do so, but he is expected ed here today."

The fever has not entirely let up at Jacksonville, Fla., yet, there being 4 new cases Wednesday. The work of fumigation and disinfection goes vigorously forward. Since Monday morning about 175 houses have been fumigated and the infected bedding destroyed.
